

Social media terms of use

Last updated Thursday, 29 September 2022

The Australian Commission for Law Enforcement Integrity (ACLEI) does not accept or handle reports of corruption via social media. Anyone wishing to report a corruption issue to ACLEI should do so in accordance with the instructions available on our website or by calling (02) 6141 2345. Journalists seeking an official response from ACLEI should contact media@aclei.gov.au.

ACLEI uses a range of social media channels to communicate with the Australian and international community. The following terms of use apply to ACLEI's social media accounts.

We use our Twitter, LinkedIn and YouTube accounts to distribute and share information relating to the agency. We monitor our social media accounts during business hours, 8.30am to 4.30pm AEDT Monday to Friday (excluding public holidays).

You agree to abide by these terms of use by accessing, posting or contributing to our social media pages as an individual, entity, or otherwise.

We do not endorse or support the comments, opinions or statements posted by users on our social media pages. Any information or material placed online by users, including advice and opinions, is solely the view and responsibility of the user that published the material, and does not represent the views of ACLEI or the Australian Government.

Please note, we don't respond to all individual comments from users and the ability for users to comment on ACLEI posts is limited as we usually disable comments by default.

If we follow you, re-post or share your content, interact with your content, or conduct any other engagement activities, it does not imply endorsement of any kind by ACLEI or the Australian Government.

As a user of our social media pages, you may express your views, comments, ideas and insights about the agency.

When using our social media pages, please ensure you:

- protect your personal privacy by not sharing inappropriate personal information
- do not violate the privacy of others including members of the public, subject officers or witnesses, law enforcement or government agency officers and ACLEI staff
- represent your own views and not impersonate or falsely represent any other person
- do not make unproven or unsupported accusations against individuals or organisations

OFFICIAL

- do not identify matters that are the subject of legal proceedings or would break a court order
- do not make comments that are illegal or likely to impact our operations
- do not engage in or encourage conduct that may or would constitute a criminal offence or give rise to civil liability, or that otherwise violates any local, provincial, national or international law or regulation anywhere in the world
- do not be abusive, harass or threaten others
- do not make defamatory or libellous comments
- do not use insulting, provocative, offensive or hateful language
- do not use incite hatred on the basis of any personal characteristic, including on the basis of race, gender, marital or domestic status, disability, sexuality or age
- do not post material that infringes the intellectual property rights of others
- do not post multiple versions of the same view make excessive postings on a particular issue
- do not promote commercial interests
- do not include internet addresses, links to websites or email addresses
- do not make comments that are irrelevant to the topic being discussed, including spam or links to appeals, petitions, offers, events, groups, pages, websites, organisations which are not related to ACLEI.

We reserve the right to remove any content that we consider is in breach of our terms of use. We may also block or delete users.

ACLEI may change its social media terms of use at any time.